It just gives you that extra little bit of control you need. I actually quite like it a bit more than most dedicated signature pads."-Stuart Dredge Design Not your typical signature pad When we started out, we wanted to design a signature pad that would be completely different from anything else on the market. So we set about to create something new and unique. We wanted to design a signature pad that would be more than just a collection of MIDI pads - it's more like a high performance DJ or music production machine, so we had to design it from the ground up. The result is a digital signature pad designed with a whole range of innovative features that make 82157476af
